

choice productions of the East: but what are all the golden treasures of Indostan, the pearls of Ormus, or the diamonds of Golconda, when compared with the permanent riches which crown the toils and sufferings of a true Christian? What person, therefore would neglect such glorious prospects, because a few boisterous winds, and adverse blasts may attend his passage? surely he is undeserving of such glorious treasures, who is afraid to hazard a few momentary and perishing trifles, for joys of such intrinsic value and eternal duration.

Pursue now, my son, thy journey in peace; and when, by the favour of the Almighty, thou hast reached the land of thy nativity, and sittest at ease in the habitation of thy fathers, engrave these precepts on the table of thy memory, and make them the constant subjects of thy thoughts; for then shalt thou securely tread the paths of virtue, and desire, rather than fear, the approach of the King of Terrors. Thou shalt smile at misfortunes, and under the weighty hand of adversity, remember with pleasure, the aged inhabitant of Lebanon.

WHEN the renowned Haroun Araschid reigned supreme over the faithful, in the magnificent city of Bagdaht, Aboul Mused was prime vizir, dispenser of the blessings of the most beneficent monarch to the most grateful of slaves. The Golden Age, so much talked of by poets, seemed to be renewed in the blessed reign of Calif Haroun Araschid; none complained of grievances without immediate redress; he made it his study
